Wouldn't it be wonderful to make friends with a Tiger? To have one as a pet? To rest your head on his tummy as your pillow? Well, the tiger may have something to say about that. In fact he might belt out one of those famous ROARS before he swats you out

The roar of some tigers can be heard from 2 miles (3 km) away! He needs no microphone. And the wise critter – or person! – knows to get out of his way.

God made the tiger for His pleasure, and He alone understands them perfectly. You can be sure that the tiger knows who his Master is. It is the Lord Jesus Christ, Master of all creation. Jesus understands each sound the tiger makes, because He worked alongside His Father to create the tiger. If a tiger were to see Jesus coming, the animal would be tickled, delighted, and overflowing with chufts. Such a powerful beast, yet the tiger is a playful kitten before His Master. Every sound the tiger makes honours God.

*T*igers don't just roar.

They also meow, moan, growl, and grunt. Their contented 'purr' is called a chuff which sounds like a sneeze or a snort or a burst of laughter.

Another sound called a pook is made when the tiger wants to imitate a deer. And their 'woof' sounds like – you guessed it – a bark. Tigers have their own language. We may not understand what they're saying, but it all makes sense to them.

And to God.
